

Brookfield City Lake

About This Area

This 118-acre reservoir is part of the water supply network for the city of Brookfield. The park like setting provides an ideal getaway for fishing and picnicking.

Since enrollment in the Community Assistance Program, the Missouri Department of Conservation has constructed a parking lot, boat ramp, privy, and disabled-user accessible fishing dock.

Brookfield City Lake provides fishing opportunities for largemouth bass, bluegill, crappie, and channel catfish. Catfish are stocked periodically by the Conservation Department.
